

Fosta: Marathon Master

Written by Judy Andrekson

Book Report By:

Koshi

I think Fosta is a great book about horses and a lifetime adventure of an orphaned horse to a wonderful guide of one of the hardest endurance events in Australia. This horse amazed me because he lived with so many different families and finally conquered his only fear: traffic and big trucks. Fosta is a great book and I don't know really know what to say about it other than it was great!

I would give this book 9.7 out of 10. It was really good but a bit repetitive. There could have been one or two fewer Shahzada races but it finished out with everything coming together so he could beat the record. My favourite character was, of course, Fosta because he was a courageous horse and kind to his people.

I can relate to this book because two weeks ago I started going to a barn that my friend introduced me to. It is fun there and I have been able to ride two different ponies. We do chores like shovelling manure and then we get to ride the horses for free. It is a lot harder than it looks to ride a horse. It feels like you're riding on a big giant bouncing barrel, <sup>are</sup> horses are very smart and they learn quickly.

Thank you so much for coming Judy. I think it is good for book clubs and it is always interesting when the author comes to share their experiences of writing. The question I have for you is: Did you meet Fosta or any of the other horses you have written about? What was it like to meet them?

