

Kaleidoscopes and Butterfly Dreams

by Nancy Hundai
Book Report by Koshi

This book is about a girl named Krista who moves to a new town and thinks it is unbearable.

When she finds the Weight Wacker lady (Stella) everything changes.

She meets a new 9 year old friend(Harrison), and a hard worker named Fred who works at the gas station & the library.

Her friend Harrison is Chinese and some people in town don't like him & his family.

Krista's Dad works with glass. He decides to make a glass window thinga-mi-giggee for Harrison's family restaurant.

Sadly, one person who did not like Harrison and his family shattered the glass thinga-mi-giggee into a million pieces.

THE Rest is for you to find out !

I would give this book Eleven out of Ten. I liked it because it was interesting and made me want to read more.

I learned that sometimes you have to change and you have to be ready or get ready for it.

Some changes are bigger and harder than others.
